STUDIO RODERICK VOS

Milan Design Week 2025

At GOOD SELECTION find the new sofa BELLY and the brand new BOLLARD designed by Studio Roderick Vos for ITEM Amsterdam!

BOLLARD designed by Studio Roderick Vos for ITEM Amsterdam. Dimension: width 139 x depth 46 x height 65 cm. Material: cloth (low stained red color available in natural red). Handmade in The Netherlands © Daan Bavinkhof

BOLLARD bench - a childhood memory

Roderick Vos: 'BOLLARD is a new seating element crafted entirely from solid cold rolled steel. The design achieves a harmonious balance between clean, straight lines and soft, flowing curves, resulting in a timeless piece that can be used both indoors and outdoors. Its simple yet striking form ensures that it is clearly reflected in the place.

Created with longevity in mind, this salvaged bench is designed to last for generations and to age gracefully over time. Beveled and furnished, the seating surface is available in a strong, contrasting red. BOLLARD is a new addition to the bright colored-in family! BOLLARD has been added to the collection of ITEM Amsterdam.'

BELLY designed by Studio Roderick Vos for ITEM Amsterdam. Dimension: width 84 x depth 78 x height 100 cm. Material: cloth (low stained red color available in natural red). Handmade in The Netherlands © Rien Vos

BELLY - liquor cabinet

The BELLY brings the liquor cabinet back in fashion. The design of the naturally flowing exterior, that hides angular shelves, houses practical shelving for bottles as well as a spinning display platform in the center of its belly. Glamorous on the outside, simple on the inside. With its unique form and seamless finishing, BELLY is a true eye-catcher in any interior.

Roderick Vos: 'I have always been impressed by the process of vacuum forming and making molds. My design approach to the Liquor Cabinet may seem improvised, but it certainly wasn't easy to achieve a seamless, continuous surface. Starting with a flat sheet of metal, I wanted to see how far I could push the shape it into almost any organic form. That was exactly my starting point: exploring the plasticity of this material.

For this project, ITEM Amsterdam used an acrylic-based solid surface material called Dekrosa. Due to the high pressure required to form the shape of BELLY, a mold made of MDF was necessary. The mold was manufactured for this design, mimicking the size of seams. With his broad color palette, The BELLY Cabinet has truly become a magnificent piece of craftsmanship.'

BELLY is a new addition to the bright colored-in family! Dimension is important too: The BELLY Liquor Cabinet can display a variety of liquors and glasses, enabling a wide array of choices to be ready to be used. However, the shape of the cabinet suggests something else...!

'VANISH' - lounge chair

A material collaboration that celebrates the art of 3D printing.
Roderick Vos: 'Thanks to our massive 3D printer, we're now able to create larger sculptural furniture designs - this piece is a study of an armchair. With this unique capability, we've decided to produce Vanish in a limited edition of 8 pieces + 1 artist proof, each one numbered and signed. The addition of this technology with a fiberglass coating for added strength, our studio gains complete creative freedom.'

ITEM is an Amsterdam based design label. "We produce high-end and uncompromising design furniture that stands out. Breaking with the trend of carefully curated furniture collections, we create pieces/pieces that people hold on to for the rest of their lives.

With over 20 years of experience in the design industry and furniture manufacturing, ITEM was started by a group of creatives passionate about well-designed and quality furniture that immediately catches the eye.

Remarkable design is created in creative freedom. That is why ITEM aims to be a platform for independent designers who want to realize their own ideas and visions. Each piece is produced in limited quantities, with attention to detail and each material and surface (mix) products and furniture pieces of superior quality.

ITEM is also a production company that has its own factory in Amsterdam where pieces are produced in in-house manufacturing since just outside of Amsterdam, where we work with a variety of materials among which wood, metal and leather.

GOOD SELECTION

A showroom filled with a curated selection of participating designers inspired by Rem Koolhaas' 'S,M,L,XL'.

MADE BY US, MADE FOR US

GOOD SELECTION is a group exhibition initiated and co-ordinated by designers Louis Zinc and Marie Claire Veenhof. The exhibition showcases a curated selection of participating designers who have been selected for their craftsmanship and passion. Conceived as a response to the overconsumption and overproduction that characterizes the contemporary design industry, GOOD SELECTION aims to create a platform where designers can present their work in a more intimate and considered setting, away from the commercial sales events. Inspired by Rem Koolhaas' seminal book Design Meets Global Mass.

MANIFESTO

In an increasingly dominated sector by complex commercial mechanisms, GOOD SELECTION is an accessible and non-commercial platform for designers to present their work in a more intimate and considered setting, away from the design market. The development of our type of fair creates a much-needed shift in the design industry, paving the autonomy back to the designers. The exhibition of series does not merely giving an one's economic autonomy, on the contrary, it is a way to maintain control over the design process.

"An exhibition for us, by us" is the motto that encapsulates the spirit of the project. An exhibition conceived and realized by designers, for designers. This is precisely why the project carries an intrinsic and instinctively kind between artists it creates, fostering a sense of community and collaboration among its participants.

Although the architecture of design is all-enclosed, the vision of people of each artist can never magnified, the holds and some of the paths that lead designers to be recognized as such are often the common denominator. In fact, every artist shares the same experiences and goals, and this is precisely what makes the exhibition so special. It is a place where a community where collaboration and mutual support are fundamental pillars. Similarly, for the works, what is sought as the designers have a shared vision and commitment for quality and craftsmanship. Each piece is the result of meticulous work and dedication, reflecting the passion and expertise of the artists. This shared ethos creates a sense of belonging and authenticity with the public that enhances them in every way.

CURATION

The curation of works through different verses, where objects from various artists interact with each other, creating micro-narratives that are either separate or complementary to each other. Each piece is carefully placed in dialogue with the object itself emerges, revealing new potential. In this space, the exhibition transforms into a true promenade through the various creations, where the visitor can discover connections and relationships that sometimes themselves in a possibility of universes, each with its own distinct power and perceptual capacity.

Each scenario will be designed so that the relationship between the observer and the object is direct, encouraging that intimate and personal dialogue that characterizes the entire exhibition. The goal is to create a space for reflection and calm. The intent is that, in order to respect for the status of a work of art by creating a 'rule' to allow to bring it closer to the audience, so that it can be experienced personally and, most importantly, connected to each individual's daily life.
